There was little, if any surprise at all when Mr. Gear arose in the Bar meeting yesterday and stated that he wished to withdraw the resolutions offered last Saturday condemning the portion of the Enabling Act referring to the Justices and Judges. It was known very generally by the middle of the day that a canvass had settled the fate of the resolutions if they were brought before the meeting. Their defeat by a large majority was certain. In fact it was thought they might be substituted by resolutions of exactly reverse tenor and sentiment.

Mr. Gear said that he wished to withdraw the resolutions for the reason that the constitution of the Bar Association provided that it should not take part directly or, indirectly in any political issue. He himself did not be lieve the resolutions to be within the tabu scope, but to avoid possibility of dissension he would prefer to take them back. Permission was granted by unanimous vote. He said he declined to be active in the affair for the reason that he had never been a partisan and that he understood at the beginning that the society was to be a Bar Asso ciation pure and simple, without any political feature. Thank Mercy, one doesn't often see human hulks like him. Where there is a single instance of a man having lost both legs or both arms there are a dozen where only one limb of the pair is missing. And where there is a single case of the latter sort there are a hun-dred cases of people who are lame, or more or less disabled, by disease or minor injuries which are scarcely noticeable, yet in the long run serious to those so afflicted.

Consequently when we sum up both classes we perceive that it isn't the total wrecks and the incurables that are most expensive to society, but the prodigious host which must work, and does work, yet always under difficulties and against hindrances.
